

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

April 21, 2015

We send warm wishes to all those participating in Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day!

Nothing is more American than lifting up our next generation. No matter who they are, what they look like, or where they come from, all young people deserve the chance to reach high and dream big.

This year, we encouraged employers across America to welcome girls and boys who might not otherwise be able to participate in this day, and we applaud those who answered our call to action. Children living in foster care or without homes and those whose parents cannot bring them to work deserve the same opportunities as every other young person. When organizations open their doors to students in their communities, they help inspire the workforce of tomorrow and expose young minds to futures filled with limitless possibilities.

On Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day, and each day, let us commit to empowering every child in our Nation. We wish everyone the very best for an enjoyable, educational day.

Michelle Obama