

Today's leaders (CEOs teachers, doctors, scientists, etc) had dreams when they were young. Today's youth need to see that their dreams can lead to a fulfilled life at work, at home, and in their communities.

By participating in Take Our Daughters And Sons To Work® Day, Thursday, April 22, 2010, you can help today's youth believe as Kahlil Gibran believed ". . . yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream." Let youth see that no matter how small or large their dreams are, those dreams can become reality.
