

Statements of Support from Congress

Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison (R-TX)

"Our children are America's next generation of business and civic leaders. I always enjoy hosting the Senate assembly with Sen. Landrieu on 'Take Your Daughters and Sons to Work Day.' It is a great opportunity for children to spend quality time with their parents, while learning about the broad array of careers and opportunities that are available to them."

Congresswoman Heather Wilson (R-NM)

"Giving our kids a window into their parents work world is a great idea and a chance for them to begin thinking about their own aspirations. A great future starts with a great education, and seeing Mom and Dad at work can be a real part of that approach."

Congresswoman Rosa DeLauro (D-CT)

"Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day is a wonderful opportunity for parents and children to spend time together. As parents, we dream about what our children will be, and this is a chance to share with them the value of education and the wonderful opportunities available to them because of it. This is also a good time to reflect on how well our nation balances work and family responsibilities. Parents are frequently faced with choices of staying home with a sick child or meeting a deadline at work. Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day is a great time to gain new perspectives on how we can make the workplace more family friendly."

Congresswoman Cathy McMorris Rodgers (R- WA)

"For 16 years, the annual 'Take Our Daughters and Sons to Work Day' has helped American employers and families work together to bring about better work-family balance. I encourage American businesses and families to continue working together to build a better future for all of America's sons and daughters."
